

I am Kim Larsen. (she/her) I am a former educational sign language interpreter of 30 years who became a teacher after years of dreaming. Due to budget cuts, instead I am pursuing a new dream and starting a tutoring business and providing independent living skills in the Oak Harbor area.

My amazing son Roman and I LOVE going to Disneyland. That is where he first found courage to start practicing his speech with non-family members after he received his cochlear implants when he was 10. It is also where I first started speaking to “strangers” after a neurological condition affected my speech.

I love capturing the beauty and fun sides of nature through my camera lens.

As a family member trainee, I am looking forward to sharing our family’s story of navigating through the medical world with a child with a medical history chart that looks more like a bowl of acronym alphabet soup. I hope to gain skills, resources and knowledge about neurodiversity which I can then share with families in my community. Together, as a LEND Team, We CAN knock it out of the park!

P.S. Just to clarify, my son Roman is in the bottom picture. My “teaching partner” Mr Thinkensteiner is in the top picture. ;-)
