

Brittany Stowers

Genetic Counseling, MS

(she/her)

I was born and raised in northern Virginia and moved to Seattle with my two cats, Bonnie and Clyde, for graduate school!

I'm beyond excited to begin my LEND training and learn from multidisciplinary clinicians to better understand the different roles and ways that patients are cared for. I also hope to learn from and advocate for my future patients to understand their needs and how to best support them! I also look forward to not only learning with my classmates, but students/fellows from other professions as well.

I am a serial hobbyist and enjoy several different activities, but my favorite hobbies to take part in are dance, hiking, running, reading, sailing, and badminton!
